Introduction

This is the official publication of the results of the election of 17 members of the Australian Capital Territory Legislative Assembly that was held on 18 October 2008.

This was the sixth election for the ACT Legislative Assembly. Previous elections were held on:

- 4 March 1989
- 15 February 1992
- 18 February 1995
- 21 February 1998
- 20 October 2001
- 16 October 2004

This publication also includes the results of the recount to fill the only casual vacancy since the 2004 election, following the resignation of Mr Ted Quinlan MLA.

The Hare-Clark electoral system

The Hare-Clark electoral system used for the 2008 election was chosen by a majority of voters at a referendum held on 15 February 1992. Substantially the same system is used to elect Members of the Tasmanian House of Assembly.

The Hare-Clark system is a preferential method of proportional representation in which each voter has a single transferable vote. Voters are instructed to number candidates in the order of their preference using a series of numbers beginning with 1.

Stages of the scrutiny

The scrutiny has several stages. These are:

- The formality check. At this stage, any ballot papers that fail to satisfy the criteria for formality are excluded from further consideration. A ballot paper is informal if it has no first preference marked for a candidate or if it has two or more first preferences marked for two or more candidates. A ballot paper is also informal if it is not authentic, if it has writing on it by which the elector can be identified, or, in the case of a declaration or postal vote, if it is not enclosed in a declaration envelope prior to the scrutiny.
- The count of first preference votes for each candidate. Each formal ballot paper is sorted to a candidate according to the first preference (number 1) vote marked on it by the elector.
- The calculation of the quota. The quota of votes required for election is calculated for each electorate using the formula:

$$\frac{\text{total number of formal votes}}{\text{number of vacancies} + 1} + 1$$

- Identification of any elected candidates who have received a quota. Any candidate with votes equal to or greater than a quota is elected. This stage is repeated after each step (called a "count") in the scrutiny.

- Distribution of surplus votes. If a candidate received more votes than the quota, the surplus votes counted to the candidate are distributed to other candidates according to further preferences indicated on ballot papers by those voters. Ballot papers counted to an elected candidate with a surplus are distributed at a reduced value called a “fractional transfer value”. This value is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{\text{number of surplus votes}}{\text{total number of ballot papers with further preferences}}$$

Only those ballot papers received by the candidate at the point at which the candidate received a quota are included in the distribution of a surplus. So, if a candidate received more than a quota on first preferences, all of that candidate’s ballot papers would be included in the distribution of the surplus. But if a candidate received more than a quota after receiving ballot papers from another candidate, only those ballot papers received from that other candidate would be included in the distribution of the surplus.

Ballot papers distributed as part of a candidate’s surplus are always distributed at one “count”.

- Exclusion of candidates. If, after all surplus votes have been distributed, vacancies remain to be filled, the candidate with the fewest total votes is “excluded” and his or her ballot papers will be distributed to continuing candidates according to the preferences shown by those voters.

Ballot papers from excluded candidates are distributed over several “counts”, with each count including ballot papers with the same transfer value. Ballot papers received as first preferences have a transfer value of “1”, whereas ballot papers transferred as part of a surplus have a fractional transfer value (see Distribution of surplus votes above).

- Completion of the scrutiny. This process of distributing surplus votes from elected candidates and excluding the candidate with the fewest votes is continued until all vacancies are filled.

At some counts there is a “loss (or gain) by fraction” recorded:

- A loss by fraction can arise because the multiplication process applied to give ballot papers their correct transfer value often gives rise to remainders, which are required to be rounded downwards, thus producing a decrease in the total number of votes possessed by the candidates allocated seats and the continuing candidates.
- A gain by fraction can arise where a candidate is excluded and ballot papers with the same fractional transfer value received over several counts are combined and distributed further at one count. In this case, ballot papers representing fractions that were rounded downwards over several counts may produce an increase in the total number of votes being transferred when they are combined and transferred at the one count.

Tables 3.1 to 3.3 show the distribution of preferences in each electorate. More detailed tables (showing the movement of ballot papers) are available on the ACT Electoral Commission’s website at www.elections.act.gov.au or on request from the Commission.

The voting process

Types of votes

Ordinary votes

An ordinary vote is a vote cast on election day by an elector enrolled for any electorate at any polling place within the Australian Capital Territory.

Pre-poll votes

A pre-poll vote is a vote cast by an elector who is unable to attend a polling place within the ACT on election day. Pre-poll votes must be made in person and can be cast from three weeks prior to election day until the day before polling day at any pre-poll voting centre in the ACT or at the state electoral authority office in each interstate capital city.

Postal votes

A postal vote is a vote cast by an elector who is unable to attend a polling place within the ACT on election day. Postal votes can be cast at any time from the 19th day before polling day until polling day itself. As the name suggests, postal votes can be sent through the postal system.

Declaration votes

A declaration vote is a vote cast at a polling place or pre-poll voting centre by an elector whose name:

- is incorrectly marked on the roll in the polling place or pre-poll voting centre to indicate that the elector has already voted; or
- cannot be found on the roll but the elector claims to be entitled to vote.

Electronic votes

For this election, the five pre-poll voting centres and the same polling places on polling day issued votes electronically. These votes are included in the total votes for each of these polling places for this report. The Commission will publish a separate report into electronic voting.

Electorates

The Australian Capital Territory comprised three electorates for the election.

- BRINDABELLA, a five member electorate comprising the district of Tuggeranong (excluding the suburb of Hume), the Woden Valley suburbs of Chifley, Pearce, Torrens and Farrer and the southern remainder of the ACT;
- GINNINDERRA, a five member electorate comprising the districts of Belconnen and Hall (including the entire Village of Hall) and the Gungahlin suburb of Nicholls; and
- MOLONGLO, a seven member electorate comprising the districts of Gungahlin (excluding the suburb of Nicholls), Canberra Central, Weston Creek, Woden Valley (excluding the suburbs of Chifley, Pearce, Torrens and Farrer), Jerrabomberra (including the entire suburb of Hume), Kowen, Majura, and Stromlo.

Enrolment

Enrolment figures shown in this volume represent the number of electors eligible to vote who were listed on the electoral roll on polling day, 18 October 2008.

Mobile polling

Mobile polling teams visit designated hospitals, nursing homes, remand centres and similar institutions during the five days preceding polling day and on polling day. Votes taken by mobile polling teams visiting these institutions are shown under the “Mobiles” polling place in tables 2.1, 2.2 and 2.3.

The method of recording votes taken by mobiles changed at the 2001 election. Before that election, votes taken by mobile polling teams on polling day at Calvary Hospital and Canberra Hospital were included in the total votes counted at the ordinary polling place located at those hospitals. These votes are now included in the total for Mobiles.

Candidates and political parties

Persons standing for election are able to nominate either as:

- candidates of registered political parties; or
- independent candidates.

To be eligible for registration, a party must have had at least 100 members entitled to vote at Legislative Assembly elections.

The names of candidates appear in this volume in the same form as on the ballot papers. Candidates are shown in the column order of the ballot paper with names listed within columns in alphabetical order. The party affiliation of each candidate (if any) is indicated by a party abbreviation. Independent candidates had the choice of having “Independent” listed on the ballot papers next to their names.

The political party affiliations shown in this volume were those registered with the ACT Electoral Commission at the time of the election and which appeared on the ballot papers. Details of abbreviations are given on page 6.

Ballot papers

Ballot papers were printed for each electorate and were colour coded as follows:

- Brindabella — Blue
- Ginninderra — Green
- Molonglo — Orange

Two or more candidates nominated by a registered political party in an electorate were listed in columns with the party name as the heading. Independent candidates and party candidates standing alone were included in the ungrouped column on the right side of the ballot paper.

The order of the registered political parties was determined by a random draw conducted by the Electoral Commissioner. A further random draw was made to determine the first order of candidates within the column prior to “Robson rotation”.

Sample ballot papers are provided from page 87.

“Robson rotation”

Ballot papers for the election were printed using “Robson rotation”. This means that the names in each column of candidates were printed in different orders on consecutive ballot papers so that no candidate in a column had the advantage of appearing in the same position on every ballot paper.

Abbreviations

Political party names and non-party groups are abbreviated throughout the tables in this volume. Abbreviations are as follows:

ALP .....	Australian Labor Party
AMP .....	Australian Motorist Party
CA .....	Community Alliance
CL.....	Canberra Liberals
Greens .....	The Greens
LDP.....	Liberal Democratic Party
PI .....	Pangallo Independents
RMCP .....	Richard Mulcahy Canberra Party
Other .....	Non-party

Percentages

- Votes for parties, groups and candidates are always expressed as a percentage of the total formal vote in the same column.
- Formal and informal votes are always expressed as a percentage of the total votes in the same column.
- Total ordinary, postal, pre-poll and declaration votes for an electorate are expressed as a percentage of the total votes for the electorate.
- Total ordinary, postal, pre-poll and declaration votes for the ACT are expressed as a percentage of the total votes for the ACT.
- Total votes for an electorate are expressed as a percentage of the enrolment for the electorate.
- Total votes for the ACT are expressed as a percentage of the enrolment for the ACT.
- Total votes for each polling place are expressed as a percentage of the total votes for the electorate.

“Home and away” votes for polling places

Unlike Commonwealth elections, an elector could cast an ordinary vote in a polling place in an electorate other than the electorate the elector was enrolled for. In other words, an elector could cast an ordinary vote in his or her “home” electorate, or cast an ordinary vote in an “away” electorate.

To preserve the secrecy of the ballot, under the Electoral Act 1992 any ballot papers counted for an electorate that totalled less than 20 at a polling place could not be sorted to candidates at that polling place. Instead, they were taken unsorted to the central scrutiny centre where they were combined with other ballot papers before they were sorted. In these cases, the statistics record that no votes were counted at those polling places for that electorate. The number of votes issued at each of these polling places is shown in table 2.4.

These combined ballot papers are shown for each electorate under a polling place entitled “Central Scrutiny” in the case of votes for the electorates of Brindabella and Ginninderra. For the electorate of Molonglo, only one polling place, Tharwa, issued fewer than 20 votes. These 10 ballot papers were included in the count for the polling place of Watson.

Swings

Table 1.1 includes an “ACT Total % Swing” column. This column represents the difference in percentage terms between the result for each party and “other” candidates and the corresponding result for the 2004 election.

- For parties that did not contest the 2004 election, the swing shown is the percentage of votes received by the party in 2008.
- The swing figure for “other” candidates compares results for 2008 non-party candidates with the results obtained by non-party candidates in 2004.
- The results obtained by parties that contested the 2004 election but not the 2008 election are not included in these calculations. For this reason the swings displayed will not sum to zero.
- Richard Mulcahy contested the 2004 election as a Liberal Party candidate. His 2004 votes are included as Liberal Party votes in this table. The Richard Mulcahy Canberra Party is taken to be a new party in 2008.

First preference votes by polling place

The tables showing first preference votes for each polling place include columns for central scrutiny, declaration, interstate, mobiles and postals as polling places.

Casual vacancies

Under the Hare-Clark system, any vacancies arising in the Assembly are filled by recounting the ballot papers that were received by the vacating member in order to determine which candidate was the next most favoured candidate chosen by the voters who elected the vacating member. Only those candidates who contested the original election and who indicate that they wish to contest the casual vacancy will be considered in this process.

Stages of a casual vacancy count-back

The recheck is conducted as follows:

- ❑ Isolate those ballot papers that contributed to the election of the vacating member. Some of those ballot papers will have finished the scrutiny still allotted to the vacating member. These ballot papers will be subdivided according to the count at which they were received by the vacating member. Other ballot papers will have been transferred to other candidates as the vacating member's "surplus". These ballot papers will have finished the scrutiny allotted to other candidates or will have been set aside as exhausted.
- ❑ Distribute the ballot papers of the vacating member. These are distributed to those candidates who have indicated they wish to contest the vacancy according to the first available preference on each ballot paper. For example, a ballot paper that was marked "1—Blue, 2—Vacating member", would be counted to "Blue" (if "Blue" is contesting the vacancy). Similarly, a ballot paper that was marked "1—Vacating member, 2—Black, 3—Blue", would be counted to "Blue" if "Blue" is contesting the vacancy but "Black" is not. Ballot papers may be exhausted at this stage if they do not show a valid preference for a contesting candidate.

Ballot papers keep the transfer value that they had when they were received by the vacating member throughout the count-back, with the exception of those ballot papers received at the count at which the vacating member was elected. Those ballot papers are allocated a new transfer value according to a complex formula set out in the Electoral Act, which has the effect of giving them a vote value equivalent to the amount of votes needed by the vacating member at that count to bring his or her vote total up to the quota for election.
- ❑ Calculate the number of votes received by each contesting candidate. The numbers of ballot papers counted to contesting candidates for each particular transfer value are multiplied by the relevant transfer value to give the numbers of votes allotted to each candidate. The total number of votes allotted to each candidate is calculated by adding together the votes received for each particular transfer value.
- ❑ Determine whether a candidate has enough votes to be elected. To be elected, a candidate must obtain 50% plus 1 (an absolute majority) of the number of votes counted to all the contesting candidates remaining in the count (excluding exhausted votes). If a candidate has an absolute majority, that candidate is successful and the scrutiny is complete.
- ❑ If no candidate has an absolute majority, the candidate with the fewest votes is excluded. His or her ballot papers are transferred to the remaining candidates at their respective transfer values. New vote totals are calculated for each remaining candidate.
- ❑ The fourth and fifth steps are repeated until a candidate receives an absolute majority of votes.

The results of the one count-back since the 2004 election are following. This casual vacancy recount was conducted using the Electronic Voting and Counting System (EVACS) introduced at the 2001 election.

Casual vacancy count-back in Molonglo following the resignation of Ted Quinlan

Mr Ted Quinlan resigned from the Legislative Assembly on 21 March 2006. A notice was published in the Canberra Times on 24 March 2006 calling for nominations from eligible candidates. At the close of applications on 3 April 2006, a total of 11 nominations had been received. In a recount of ballot papers received by Mr Quinlan at the 2004 election, Mr Andrew Barr, Australian Labor Party, received a majority of preferences. Mr Barr was officially declared elected to fill the casual vacancy on 5 April 2006.

Table 1 – First preference vote summaries
